SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIAN YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK Facts and Suggestions for the March Auxiliary Program

By GILBERT GLASS, D. D.

The new Young People's report blanks for the Woman's Auxiliary include reports on Foreign Mission and Home Mission study classes, Prayer Bands, Life Enlistment, Tithers, Missionary programs, Representation at the Young People's Conferences, and whether or not the Young People's Council is organized and functioning.

The importance of these matters, as well as the growth and success of young people's organizations in the local church, should be emphasized in the Auxiliary program for March. Other matters of primary interest and vital importance are as follows:

"Friends of Christ" Program. The "Friends of Christ" program will find an immediate response among all Christian Endeavorers as it is the outstanding feature of the two years between the 1923 and the 1925 International Christian Endeavor Conventions. The "Friends of Christ" program prepared by the Young People's Department at Richmond is expressed in terms of the Christian Endeavor Standard requirements and should direct attention to the Southern Presbyterian Efficiency Chart, and be promoted among all our Christian Endeavor Societies.

Woman's Auxiliary Secretaries can be of great service in developing denominational loyalty and interest and the support of denominational causes among Christian Endeavorers. The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Efficiency Wall Chart would be an interesting display feature for the March program, and could be used to call attention to the requirements and objectives set before young people's societies. All societies should use this Efficiency Standard which is recommended by the interdenominational headquarters at Boston as entirely adequate from both denominational and interdenominational angles.

This program has been sent to all Christian Endeavor Societies, and additional copies will be sent on request.

Stewardship. The development of Stewardship among young people is also of prime importance. Valuable assistance and suggestions can be secured from the Stewardship Committee at Chattanooga, or have probably already been furnished by Rev. R. C. Long who has prepared material for promoting the Presbyterian Progressive Program among Christian Endeavor Societies.

Young People's Conference. The securing of representation at Synodical Young People's Conferences and at the Montreat Young People's Conference should be forcefully presented at the March Auxiliary meeting, and steps should be taken to secure delegates from the local church if possible. Announcements regarding the dates and program of your Synodical Conference and also the Montreat Conference will be available in the church periodicals and perhaps by circularization in time for the March meeting.

The Young People's Conferences of the Southern Presbyterian Church gathered together for inspiration and training, about 2,500 delegates from all types of churches last summer. There were altogether eighteen such Conferences, including the one at Montreat.
