

The Princeton Theological Seminary Bulletin

VOLUME VII

AUGUST, 1913

NUMBER 2

---

Necrological Report

---

Published by
The Princeton Theological Seminary

NECROLOGICAL REPORT

PRESENTED TO THE

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

OF

PRINCETON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

AT ITS ANNUAL MEETING

MAY 6th, 1913

---

BY THE SECRETARY

---

engaged in home missionary work at Bozeman, Mont., 1872-73; was stated supply of the church at Knoxville, Ia., 1874-75; was stated supply of the church at Dexter, Ia., in 1876, and stated supply of the church in Glassboro, N. J., 1877-79. He then went to Belfast, Ireland. He was pastor of the church in Tullamore, Ire., from 1881 to 1885. Going to Australia, he was the pastor of the church at Randwick, New South Wales, from 1886 to 1896, and pastor of the Ann Street Church of Brisbane, Queensland, from Sept. 14, 1896, until his death. He died Jan. 31, 1912, in the Island of Jersey, Great Britain, in the 67th year of his age. He was president of the Australasian C. E. Union in 1900 and 1901. He published numerous sermons and reviews, as well as several pamphlets. He was editor of the Presbyterian and the Australian Witness, from 1887 to 1888, and also during a part of 1889. He was a member of the Polynesian Society; of the Australia Association for the Advancement of Science; of the Council of the Australian Climatization Society; of the Royal Geographical Society of Queensland, and of the Royal Society of Queensland. He was also an associate of the Victorian Institute of London, and was founder of the Queensland Charity Organization.

He was married Dec. 4, 1895, in Melbourne, Aus., to Jean Alexine Wishart.

---

SAMUEL MACAULEY JACKSON, D.D., LL.D.,

Son of George T. and Letitia Jane Aiken (Macauley) Jackson, was born June 19, 1851, in New York City. He made a public confession of his faith in the Collegiate Reformed Dutch Church of New York City, at the age of fourteen. His preparatory studies were pursued in the Ward School, 35, New York City, and he graduated from the College of the City of New York in 1870. Entering the Seminary at Princeton the same year, he spent one year there. He completed his theological course in Union Theological Seminary, New York, from which he graduated in 1873. He was licensed by the Reformed Classis of New York, Dec. 9, 1875, and ordained by the Presbytery of Jersey City, May 30, 1876, being at the same time installed pastor of the church at Norwood, N. J. He was released from this charge, April 20, 1880. From 1878 to 1880 he was assistant editor of Schaff's Bible Dictionary, and from 1880 to 1884, associate editor of Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia. From 1885 to 1886 he was editor of the Encyclopedia of Living Divines, and from 1888 to 1891, editor of the Concise Dictionary of Religious knowledge. From 1889 to 1891 he was editor of the Magazine of Christian Literature. In 1892 he became associate editor of Johnson's Universal Cyclopaedia. In 1903 he took up the work of editing the New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia. He was professor of Church History in the New York University, from 1895 until his death, which occurred Aug. 2, 1912, in Washington, Conn., of pernicious anaemia, in the 62nd year of his age. He was buried in the Greenwood Cemetery, New York City. He received the degree of LL.D., from Washington and Lee University in 1892, and that of D.D. from New York University in 1893. Dr. Jackson devoted his life mainly to editorial and bibliographical work. He studied in Germany from July 1873 to January 1874, and traveled in the Orient from January to July 1874. From July 1874 to July 1875 he was a student and traveler in Europe. Beside the editorial work above mentioned he edited the series of Heroes of the Reformation, and Handbooks for Practical Workers in Church and Philanthropy. He published a Bibliography of Foreign Missions, in 1891; Huldreich Zwingli, in 1901, and Selections from Zwingli, in 1901, and at the time of his death was engaged in issuing the Latin works of Zwingli. He was secretary and one of the founders of the American Society of Church History; was Vice-president of the Charity Organization Society of New York City; was recording secretary of the New York Prison Association; was president of the Board of Trustees of the Christian College of Canton, China. He was also a member of the Executive Committee of the Burial Reform Association of New York, and of the Riverside Rest Association of New York. He was a member of the Reform Club, of the Aldine Club, and of the City Club of New York, and was Honorary Fellow of the Huguenot Society of London. He was unmarried.

---

GEORGE TIFFANY McCLELLAND,

Son of John and Elizabeth (Long) McClelland, was born Jan. 26, 1844, in Pardoe, Pa. He made a public confession of his faith in the United Presbyterian church of Crawfordsville, Ia., at the age of seventeen. His preparatory studies were pursued in Washington, Ia., and in Westminster, Pa., and he graduated from Monmouth College, Ill., in 1869. He then spent three years in the United Presbyterian Seminary of Monmouth, Ill. Entering the Seminary at Princeton in 1872, he remained nearly a year. He was licensed by the United Presbyterian Presbytery of Keokuk, April 4, 1871, and ordained by the United Presbyterian Presbytery of Lake, May 5, 1874. He supplied the United Presbyterian church of Franklin, Pa., from November 1873 until installed its pastor May 5, 1874, and was released from this charge in 1876. From July to September 1876 he supplied the United Presbyterian church of Cherry Fork, Ohio. He then supplied the United Presbyterian church of Kittanning, Pa., 1876-77, and the United Presbyterian church of Millersburg, Ohio, 1877-78. After this he engaged in teaching for several years. He supplied the Presbyterian church of Mendocino City, Cal., from April 1881 to April 1882. For the next eight years he engaged in business in San Francisco. From August to October 1891 he supplied