JOHN PETER ENGSTROM,

Son of Magnus and Ellen (Solberg) Engstrom, was born Nov. 11, 1855, at Höganäs, Sweden. He made a public confession of his faith in the Second Presbyterian Church of New Albany, Ind., at the age of eighteen. His preparatory studies were pursued in the preparatory department of Hanover College, from which institution he graduated in 1881. He took the first year of his theological course in Lane Seminary immediately after his graduation from college. Entering the Seminary at Princeton in 1882, he remained there one year. He was licensed by the Presbytery of New Albany, April 4, 1883, and ordained by the same Presbytery April 5, 1883. He was pastor of the church at Mt. Carmel, Ind., 1883-85; stated supply at Waveland, Ind., 1886, until installed pastor May 12, 1887, serving this church until 1890; stated supply at Lebanon, Ind., 1891-93; stated supply at Poplar Bluff, Mo., 1893-95; stated supply of the Parke Memorial Church, Evansville, Ind., from 1895 until installed its pastor in the following year; this relation was dissolved April 9, 1902; pastor at Oskaloosa, Ia., from June 3, 1902, to Sept. 20, 1905. During the next two years he engaged in work as an evangelist. His last active work was as stated supply of the church at Lansing, Ia., from 1907 until his death, which occurred Aug. 4, 1909, at Lansing, of angina pectoris, in the 54th year of his age. He was buried at Lansing.

He was married Oct. 25, 1883, in Clark Co., Ind., to Emma Le Craw, who, with three daughters, survives him.

EDWARD HUNTING RUDD,

Son of Edward Payson and Betsy (Hunting) Rudd, was born June 17, 1860, in Sag Harbor, L. I., N. Y. He made a public confession of his faith in the Presbyterian church of Sag

Harbor, at the age of fourteen. His preparatory studies were pursued at Sag Harbor in the Dwight Private School of Rahway, N. Y., and Rutgers Grammar School, New Brunswick, N. J., and he graduated from Princeton University in 1883. During the next year he travelled for a time in Europe and studied in Edinburgh University and New College, Edinburgh. Entering the Seminary at Princeton in 1884, he took the full three years' course there, graduating in 1887. He was licensed by the Presbytery of Elizabeth, April 26, 1886 and ordained by the Presbytery of Albany, Oct. 25, 1887, being at the same time installed pastor of the Sixth Church of Albany, N. Y. He was released from this charge May 4, 1891. He was pastor of the First Church of Albion, N. Y., from May 19, 1891, to Feb. 2, 1897; associate pastor of the Madison Square Church, New York City, 1897-99; the following year he spent at the University of Bonn, Germany; he was pastor of the First Congregational Church at Dedham, Mass., from April 24, 1901, until his death, which occurred at Dedham, July 8, 1909, of cancer of the liver, in the 50th year of his age. He was buried at Stockbridge, Mass. He was moderator of the Presbytery of Albany in 1890, and was moderator of the Presbytery of Niagara. He was a commissioner from the Presbytery of Albany to Auburn Theological Seminary, and held the same appointment from the Presbytery of Niagara. He was a commissioner to the General Assembly of 1894. He published occasional sermons, and newspaper articles, and edited the Triennial, Sexennial and Decennial Records of the Class of 1883 of Princeton University. He edited also Twenty Years After, the Record of his college class. He published also Dedham's Ancient Landmarks, and their national significance, 1908.

He was married Sept. 9, 1887, in Pittsfield, Mass., to Mary Winslow Dwight, who, with two sons and one daughter, survives him.
